The Match-Maker.

BY ROBERT BULWER LYTTON.

I knew a man the world called poor
Because he barely paid the price
Of leave to live. I passed his door,
I think, once daily twice or thrice.
A little door in the long street,
Left open to let in the sun,
Which, warmly its old friends to greet,
Into the house did laughing run.
For there was that in this man's face
Which made you feel the sun was bound
To come and shine on any place
Where such a face was to be found.
He barely earned the bread of life
By making little wooden matches;
He shaped them neatly with a knife
And tied them up in tiny batches:
The labor of his life was this.
Perhaps, if I could feel quite sure
Mine was as innocent as his,
I should not mourn to be as poor
Because whene'er I chanced to meet
That man's face, I perceived it smiled
A smile as innocent, and as sweet
And simple, as a little child,
Smiling at all things. I suppose
His soul was in its infancy,
Life's smiling time, which most men lose
By living. Else, I wonder why
I felt so sure he smiled thus too,
When neither I nor any one
Was there to see him. Think! how few
There are that smile when quite alone!

LETTER FROM FRANK BLAIR.—The following letter, addressed by Frank Blair to Col. Brodhead, appeared in the New York papers of July 2d:

There is but one way to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare the Reconstruction Act null and void, compel the army to undo its usurpations at the South, disperse the "carpet-bag" State governments, allow the white people to reorganize their own governments, and elect Senators and Representatives. The House of Representatives will contain a majority of Democrats from the North, and they will admit the Representatives elected by the white people of the South; and with the co-operation of the President, it will not be difficult to compel the Senate to submit once more to the obligations of the Constitution. It will not be able to withstand the public judgment if distinctly invoked and clearly expressed on this fundamental issue, and it is the sure way to avoid all future strife, to put this issue plainly to the country; I repeat, that is the real and only question which we should allow to control us.

Shall we submit to the usurpation by which the Government has been overthrown, or shall we exert ourselves for its full and complete restoration? It is idle to talk of greenbacks, gold, the public faith and the public credit. What can a Democratic President do in regard to any of these, with a Congress in both branches controlled by the "carpet-baggers" and their allies? He will be powerless to stop the supplies by which idle negroes are organized into political clubs; by which an army is maintained to protect these vagabonds in their outrages upon the ballot. These, and things like these, eat up the revenue and resources of the Government and destroy its credit and make the difference between gold and greenbacks. We must restore the Constitution before we can restore the finances, and to do this we must have a President who will execute the will of the people by trampling into the dust the usurpation of Congress known as the Reconstruction Acts.

I wish to stand before the Convention on this issue, but it is one that embraces everything else that is of value, in its large and comprehensive results. It is one thing that includes all that is worth a contest, and without it there is nothing that gives dignity or value to the struggle.

WHAT THEY THINK OF IT.—The Democratic platform has taken our opponents all aback. They seek, in vain, to find some flaw in it—some assailable point. Some of them are forced to accord it merit, while others are silenced. For instance, the Times thus discourses of it:

"The plank in regard to the debt we consider an element of strength, and we are sorry that the Democratic party are going into the contest with a more definite platform in this respect than the Union party. The impression prevails here that what is known as Pendleton's policy (substantially that advocated by Butler and Stevens), is unpopular among the class which most influences the press, but not with the voters, as has been shown by numerous indications. Another sharp move is the resolution in favor of the reservation of the public lands for homesteads. Much attention has been lately called to the waste of the public domain, and considerable capital can be made by the proper use of this resolution. So far as we can judge from the telegraphic abstract, the Democratic platform is an evidence that the Democratic managers have lost none of their ancient skill as platform builders. They have done as well as they possibly could have done under the circumstances."

The skill in platform making is all imaginary with our neighbor. The work is not the result of skill so much as of the quality of the material. This latter is a peculiar property of the Democratic party; and, even when fitted together roughly, shows to advantage. The Chicaco or Mongrel platform, so far as polishing and construction go, is put up with equal skill; but, unfortunately for those who built it, it has been made of soggy, decaying, worm-eaten timber, mainly imported from the swamps of Africa. And hence the difference.—[Examiner.

TIME DOES IT.—Time has a wonderful power in taking the conceit out of persons. When a young man first emerges from the schools and enters upon the career of life, it is painfully amusing to witness his self sufficiency. He would have the world to understand that he has "learned out;" that he is master of all knowledge, and can unravel all mysteries. But as he grows older he grows wiser. He learns that he knows a great deal less than he supposed he did; and by the time he reaches to threescore years he is prepared to adopt as his own the sentiment of John Wesley: "When I was young I was sure of all things; at middle age I was not half as sure of most things as I was before. At present I am hardly sure of anything but what God has revealed to man."

A Tragic Affair—Death of Harry Love, the Texas Ranger.

Ever since the marriage of Harry Love, the Texas Ranger, with the widow Bennett, eight or ten years ago or more, there has been from time to time turmoils in the family—quarrels, separations, law suits, reunions and a separation again—in fact, there has been no harmony in the family, and their domestic affairs have too often been the subject of ventilation by courts and gossips. The woman has never borne an enviable reputation, and there are persons who know them both well who maintain that Harry Love, with all his faults, was the best of the two, and the least to blame in the troubles of their married life. These are matters we know but little about, and do not care to know more. It seems that of late there was a sort of reconciliation between the parties, whereby they were for a time enabled to live together under the same roof; but there was no sympathy, no unity of feeling, no disposition, on the part of the woman at least, to forget the past—no yearning for a happier commingling of thought and affection. Harry Love felt that he was only tolerated there, and he imagined that the great obstacle to the re-establishment of true marital relations in the family was in the person of Christian Eiverson, a German laborer employed by the wife to work upon the place. He told Eiverson to leave—he ordered him off the premises—he threatened his life if he did not go. Eiverson refused to go or to regard these threats. He said he was employed by the wife, who paid him, and he had nothing to do with Harry Love. While she desired his services on the place he would remain. He tried to get Harry put under bonds to keep the peace, but, we are told, failed in this, for the magistrate held that the husband, although living on the wife's property, had a right to prevent persons obnoxious to him from coming there. However this may be, or what was the ground for not putting Harry under bonds, the parties continued to occupy the same relations and positions, and June 29th Eiverson and Mrs. Love came into San Jose together on business of some sort, and here, Harry Love brooding over his troubles, saw them together. He left the city making threats; he declared that he would go home and guard his premises, and that if Eiverson entered there he should do it over his dead body. Harry Love, on arriving at home, lay down by a rail fence near the gate leading from the road to his house. Armed with a double-barreled shot-gun and a six-shooting revolving pistol, and provided with a bag of crackers and a coffee-pot and coffee, he prepared for a protracted defense of the main entrance. A daughter of Mrs. Love by her former husband, observing this state of things, and understanding its meaning, kept watch for the return of her mother and the German, Eiverson, and when they came in sight she ran out into the road and gave them notice of the disposition made for the defense. They had come within fifty yards of the gate where Harry Love lay when the girl made this communication. Eiverson immediately sprang from the wagon, and looking towards the gate saw Harry Love behind the fence with the barrel of the shot-gun protruding through it and pointing at him; he immediately drew his revolver, and both parties fired simultaneously. Eiverson was shot in the face and arm with some small bird shot, inflicting no serious injury. His pistol shot did not hit Love. Although Love was protected by the fence, Eiverson immediately advanced upon him, receiving another discharge from Love's shot-gun, and five out of the six charges of his revolver, none of which struck him except one pistol ball, received in the right arm, which disabled that member. Advancing and firing as he advanced, cool and undismayed by Love's rapid firing, Eiverson reached the fence, and bending over fired again, the ball striking Love in the right arm above the elbow, breaking the bone. Harry Love broke out into a wild howl, calling for help, and ran as fast as he could towards the house. The German sprang over the fence and gave pursuit, and on the way picked up Love's pistol, which he had dropped on the way, and fired one undischarged barrel at the retreating Love. Both parties, each having a disabled arm, came together at the house, when Eiversen struck Love a heavy blow on the back of the head with the empty pistol, which felled him to the ground and left a deep cut. They grappled and tugged on the ground, but were soon separated by parties who came up. So ended this horrible, brutal and hellish scene. Eiversen's arm was paralyzed by the ball which entered it, but the bone was not broken—the bird-shot in the face he seemed to think but little of. Love received two severe wounds—a broken arm and a bad cut on the back of the head with a pistol. The physicians, on consultation, believed it necessary to take off the broken arm. We understand that they took it off at the socket of the shoulder, and that they administered in the operation a large amount of chloroform to the sufferer. Love died as the operation was completed, and of course there is much talk and varying opinions about the case and the treatment.—[San Jose Patriot.

EVERYBODY'S WIFE.—The abominable custom of exposing too much of the female person, now so prevalent in fashionable society, is being severely ridiculed by a portion of the press. It might puzzle even an imaginative writer to concentrate in a few words more sneering but grieved bitterness than that expressed many years ago, during a temporary reign of the disease now prevalent, by a certain husband who was accosted with a question while looking on a dance in which his very decollete wife was figuring:—"What very handsome and magnificently formed lady is that yonder in the green and pearls?" asked one of the other guests, an acquaintance of the husband, but a stranger to his family. "That? Oh, that is my wife, or, at least, I thought that she was up to-day; but, by the Prophet! I am inclined to think, by the way she dresses to-night, that she is the wife of every gentleman in the room."

OUR Mormon friends are said to be industrious. They have got to be. Just think how a poor devil must work in order to dress up a dozen or two women in the "Spring style." They have to spring to it, you bet.

An Indictment.

The history of King Alcohol is a history of shame and corruption, and cruelty and crime, of rags and ruin.

He has taken the glow of health from the cheek, and placed there the reddish hue of the wine cup.

He has taken the lustre from the eye and made it dim and bloodshot.

He has taken beauty and comeliness from the face, and left it ill-shaped and bloated.

He has taken strength from the limbs and made them weak and tottering.

He has taken firmness and elasticity from the step and made it faltering and treacherous.

He has taken vigor from the arm and left flabbiness and weakness.

He has taken vitality from the blood and filled it with poison and the seeds of disease and death.

He has transformed this body, fearfully and wonderfully made, God's masterpiece of mechanism, into a vile, loathsome, stinking mass of humanity.

He has entered the brain, the temple of thought, dethroned reason, and made it reel with folly.

He has taken the beam of intelligence from out of the eye and left in exchange the stupid stare of idiocy and dullness.

He has taken the impress of ennobled manhood from the face and left the mark of sensuality and brutishness.

He has bribed the tongue to utter madness and driveling.

He has taken cunning from the hands and turned them from deeds of usefulness to become instruments of brutality and murder.

He has broken the ties of friendship and planted the seeds of enmity.

He has made the kind, indulgent father a brute, a tyrant, a murderer.

He has transformed the kind and affectionate mother into a very fiend of brutish incarnation.

He has made obedient sons and daughters the breakers of hearts and the destroyers of homes.

He has taken the luxuries from off the table and compelled men to cry on account of famine and to beg for bread.

He has stolen men's palaces and given them hovels in exchange.

He has robbed men of valuable acres and given them not even a decent burial place in death.

He has filled our streets and highways with violence and lawlessness.

He has complicated our laws and crowded our courts.

He has filled to overflowing houses of correction and penitentiaries.

He has peopled with his multitudes our poor-houses.

He has straightened us for room in our insane asylums.

He has taken away faith, hope and charity, yea, all that is lovely and of good report, and given despair, infidelity, enmity, and all the emotions and deeds of wickedness.

He has banished Christ from the heart and created hell within it.

He has wrecked and enfeebled the bodies, shattered and destroyed the minds, imperiled and damned the souls of our fellow men.

These are counts of our indictment. Let the world judge of the truth.—[Charlottesville Chronicle.

"LET US HAVE PEACE," says Gen. Grant.
Who is hindering you here and now?
"Let us have peace," says Grant.

Shall we look to the South, where you are military dictator, for a pattern of your peace?

"Let us have peace," is the clap-trap phrase of Grant's acceptance letter.

No man has hindered you and your fellow Radicals three years past.

"Let us have peace," says Grant, and the party journals take up the cry.

If we have not had peace since Appomattox Court House, whose fault is it?

General Grant says, "Let us have peace." The country replies, "Who has hindered you? Who does hinder you? Who will hinder you?"

"Let us have peace," says Grant.

But it is your Radicals who for three years have denied us peace. The country means to have peace, and wont trust men to procure it who for three years have kept us from it.

"Let us have peace," says Grant's fuglemen, aping their leader.

Who hinders you? You have Congress by more than two-thirds in either branch. The President is not in your way, for you can and do override all his vetoes. The Supreme Court is not in your way, for you can and do abridge its jurisdiction. The army is not in your way, for you have created Grant military dictator in the Southern desert which you have made in ten States and call peace. These powers you have, and have had for three years, and thus utterly unimpeded have you been on every hand. If you wanted peace, why didn't you give us peace?—[New York World.

CHANGE IN POLITICS.—The Clinton county (Ill.) Independent, formerly a Republican paper, is now published in the interest of the Democracy. Its editor, Mr. George Sellers, who has been a Republican ever since the origination of that party, says he can stand it no longer. We quote the following from a recent issue:

"Nearly all the decent men who ever belonged to the Republican or radical party have left, and many more will leave it as soon as they learn the truth. Chief Justice Chase, Senators Trumbull, Grimes, Ross, Fessenden, Cowan, Doolittle, Dixon, and even the President of the United States, have left the party since it fell into the hands of such dirty thieves as Beast Butler, Dirty Work Logan, and original favorites and abolitionists like Stevens and Sumner.

A THIEF who stole some silver-plate from a Mr. McKean, of Terre Haute, Ind., writes him a letter from Atlanta, Ill., which he closes as follows: "Finally, allow me to respectfully suggest to you in future, that you content yourself with cheap spoons, and spend your surplus cash in the cause of humanity and of Christ."

LET HIM GO.—While a procession of jubilant Democrats were marching through the streets of Stockton last Saturday evening, a cowardly mongrel, educated in the school of liberty-destroyers, shielded himself in the darkness and vented his spite by throwing missiles at the torch-bearers. The Stockton Gazette gives the affair the following notice in its local columns:

Twenty-five dollars reward will be given to any man who will give positive information of the individual who insulted the Democratic torchlight procession last Saturday night by throwing brick-bats and gravel at it; and the junior editor of the Gazette will give bonds in the sum of ten thousand dollars that he will publicly cowhide the contemptible dog who was guilty of it, through the principal streets of Stockton.

Let the villian go. He is but the tool of his evil-minded preceptors, who for years past have encouraged mobs to commit acts of lawlessness against those who differ with them in opinion. The people are being heard now, and the exhibition of malignity that still rankles in the hearts of oppressors is powerless to do harm—as impotent as the hissing of the wounded black snake. Leave him writhing in his slimy lair, unhonored by the notice of an honest man.

OWEN'S LAKE MONSTERS.—The stories which have for some time past been in circulation concerning strange animals seen in Owen's Lake have been recently repeated, and several citizens residing in the vicinity of the lake have declared their willingness to testify to the truth of these seemingly incredible statements. Two young men of respectability assert that they saw two of the monsters on the 2d inst., and describe them as being at least one hundred feet in length and ferocious in appearance.

GRANT AND DEFEAT.—Grant's name was used by the radicals in New Hampshire, and a reduced radical majority was the first fruit of his radical candidacy. Next Grant turned up in Connecticut, and an increased Democratic majority was the result. Grant and negro suffrage beat radicalism in Michigan by forty thousand majority. In the elections everywhere Grant's name has been used, and always with use has followed defeat. The New York Tribune announced Grant to be a strong advocate of impeachment, and straightway impeachment went to the dogs. Altogether Grant is not a synonym of victory.—[Exchange.

ANOTHER SCARE.—The Record fears that the "high toned chivalry institution," known as the Knights of the Golden Circle, is in progress of reorganization, and kindly promises to watch its development carefully. An investigating committee should be immediately appointed by the "Freedom's Defenders," and, armed with dark lanterns, to search out the Record's mare's nest. Somebody must tap the little bell.

NIPPED.—A Democrat and Radical, in Auburn, bet $100 a side on the Presidential contest. Another Rad. attached his political brother's stakes for debt; whereupon the Herald advises the boys to pay their debts before they put up their coin.

WHAT HAS JOHNSON DONE?—The Bee says that Johnson has at last made a good suggestion to Congress. Well, the President can now exclaim with Governor Bigler, "Merciful God! what hast thy servant done that his enemies should praise him?"

WEALTH.—The product of gold in California for 1867, according to Ross Browne, was twenty-five millions of dollars. He estimates the wheat crop this year at the same value.

LABOR EXCHANGE.—This institution is in a prosperous condition. Last week orders were received for 495 men and 387 women, and still the demand increases.

PASS IT ROUND.—The Placer Herald informs its readers that Grant and Colfax were actually nominated at Chicago. Why don't the Pubs. ratify?

LOW FARE.—The Opposition steamer Nebraska carried passengers for New York on her last trip at the low rate of $52 50 in the first cabin.

A THREAT.—The Sacramento Union threatens a revolution in case Seymour and Blair are elected. If our "erring sisters" desire to revolve, in God's name let them do it.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—A call has been made for a meeting of this body in San Francisco on the 31st instant. Every member should be present.

"You lost two legs in the army; what did you gain by it?" asked a gentleman of a maimed soldier. "Single blessedness, sir," he replied; "for after that no woman would marry me."

DISHONOR.

If any one purpose or line of policy pursued by the Radical Party more than another is calculated to make their wickedness notorious in future and bring lasting disgrace on the nation, the so-called reconstruction acts of Congress cannot fail to take precedence on the roll of infamy. Who does not remember all the fair promises made by the party in power to the people, which were to bring peace, prosperity and happiness to the country at the close of the war? For what purpose did men of all parties join in deadly conflict against the secessionists of the South? If the soldiers who stood shoulder to shoulder on the field of battle were animated with a desire to realize those promises which at the beginning of the war were so loudly proclaimed; if they were led to believe that when armed rebellion was put down the close of the war would witness a return of union and harmony, how bitter is their disappointment, and how vainly do they look for the legitimate fruits of their victory? For months and years past a powerful and corrupt party have been nursing their wrath against a brave but defenseless people, a people prostrated by the ravages of war, yet bearing their hardships with fortitude; humiliated by desolation and defeat, yet nobly contending against the frowns of fortune without murmur or resentment against their implacable foes. They laid down their arms, accepting the situation in good faith, and vainly relied on the false promises of their victorious adversaries, who made loud pretentions to magnanimity and promised to remember mercy. Shame on the violation of faith and bitter prejudices displayed by the fanatics of the radical party. The fires of insane hatred still rankle in their hearts, and magnanimity is a stranger to their souls. No opportunity is lost to persecute and heap indignities upon the Southern people. The integrity of States and the rights of the people have been violently dealt with, despised, denied and reviled; and to-day, when the busy hum of industry and the smiles of contentment should be heard and seen all over the land, the dishonest legislation of military despots stands like a pall over the fairest portion of the land.

The various enactments of Congress for the government of States, reorganized only as conquered provinces, have brought forth their fruits, gratifying perhaps to malignant hearts, whose ingenuity was taxed in framing these plans of oppression, but disheartening and revolting to every lover of political and civil liberty. The recent accounts of riots and bloodshed, brought about in the South by ignorant negroes, rendered impudent and vindictive by the crazy efforts of their false friends in Congress to make them the equals and superiors of white men, are but the outcroppings of the ill-conceived, unjust policy of bad men wildly seeking the means of prolonging their term of wicked rule. How long shall these things exist? The answer must come in the united voice of the great Democratic party next November. The people are awakened to the sense of shame brought upon them by the deeds of reckless fanatics. They are prepared to act, and they will act. In this country political intolerance must not—cannot live. The radical party, staggering under the weight of its sins, must go down with all its burdens to a political grave, and such will speedily be its fate.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING AT SILVEYVILLE.—The Democracy of Silveyville and vicinity, on hearing of the nomination of Seymour and Blair, had an enthusiastic ratification meeting. Although but little notice was given, a large crowd of staunch Democrats assembled and made the welkin ring with cheers for the standard-bearers of the Democratic party. The meeting was addressed by F. L. B. Goodwin, John Y. Rusker and Col. Stevenson. A Democratic club has been organized under the most auspicious circumstances, and much enthusiasm prevails. The Democrats of Solano are wide awake, and will not falter in the discharge of their duty during the campaign, which has fairly opened.

ACCIDENT AT SILVEYVILLE.—We learn that Mr. Silvey met with a serious accident at his home on Tuesday night. It appears that he had been sleeping on the balcony in front of his hotel, and some time in the night, in getting out of bed, he fell over the banisters and was precipitated to the brick pavement below, by which accident his spine was seriously injured. His situation is very precarious, only slight hopes being entertained of his recovery. Mr. Silvey (from whom the town of Silveyville takes its name) was its first settler, and is highly esteemed by his townsmen.

MORE TAXATION.—The Radicals have taxation on the brain. There seems to be no limit to their desire to oppress the people. They propose now to give the people more chances for paying unnecessary taxation by dividing the State of Texas into three State Governments, and California into two, thereby creating more places for hungry office-seekers, and more burdens for the poor. What next? How soon will some of their organs advocate a Pacific Republic again?

GOOD SPELLING.—The Vallejo Chronicle has met with an opportunity to display its skill in spelling. In the same article in which it criticises our "canon," the Chronicle uses the preposition "to" in place of the adverb "too;" but we overlook that, supposing that "to much zeal hath made him mad."

GOOD BYE, SIB.—Sibley the Whig, Sibley the Know Nothing, Sibley the Republican, Sibley the Radical, Sibley the Bolter, Sibley the Democrat, has gone from our gaze to the bosom of Thad. Good bye, Sib.

National Democratic Platform.

The Democratic party in National Convention assembled, reposing its trust in the intelligence, patriotism and discriminating justice of the people, stand upon the Constitution as the foundation and limitation of the powers of the Government, and the guarantee of the liberties of the citizen, and recognizing the questions of slavery and secession as having been settled for all time to come by the war, or the volunteer action of the Southern States in Constitutional Conventions assembled, and never to be resuscitated, do, with the return of peace, demand:

First—The immediate restoration of all States to their rights in the Union under the Constitution of civil government and the American people.

Second—Amnesty for all past political offenses and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citizens.

Third—The payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable, all money drawn from the people by taxation, except so much as is requisite for the necessities of the Government economically administered, being honestly applied to such payment, and when the obligations of the Government do not expressly state upon their face or the law under which they were issued does not provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought in right and in justice to be paid in the lawful money of the United States.

Fourth—Equal taxation of every species of property, according to value, including Government bonds and other public securities.

Fifth—One currency for the Government and the people, the laborer and the officeholder, the pensioner and the soldier, the producer and the bond-holder.

Sixth—Economy in the administration of the Government, the reduction of the standing army and navy, the abolition of the Freedmen's Bureau, and all political instrumentalities designed to serve negro supremacy; simplification of the system, and discontinuance of inquisitorial modes of assessing and collecting internal revenue; that the burden of taxation be equalized and lessened; the credit of the country made good; all enactments for the enrolling of the State militia into national forces in time of peace, and a tariff for revenue upon foreign imports; and such equal taxation under the internal revenue laws as will afford incidental protection to domestic manufactures as will, without impairing the revenue, impose the least burden upon and best promote and encourage the great industrial interests of the country.

Seventh—Reform of abuses in the administration; the expulsion of corrupt men from office; the abrogation of useless offices, the restoration of rightful authority to the independence of the Executive and Judicial Departments of the Government; the subordination of military to the civil power, to the end that the usurpation of Congress and despotism of the sword may cease.

Eighth—Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native born citizens at home and abroad; the assertion of American nationality which will command the respect of foreign powers, furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights, and the maintenance of the rights of naturalized citizens against the absolute doctrine of immutable allegiance and the claims of foreign powers to punish them for alleged crime committed beyond their jurisdiction. In demanding these measures and reforms we arraign the radical party for its disregard of right and the unparalleled opposition and tyranny which have worked its career. After the most solemn and unanimous pledge of both Houses of Congress to prosecute the war exclusively for the maintenance of the Government and the preservation of the Union under the Constitution, it has repeatedly violated that most sacred pledge under which was rallied that noble volunteer army which carried our flag to victory. Instead of restoring the Union it has so far as it is in its power dissolved it and subjected ten States, in time of profound peace, to military despotism and negro suffrage. It has nullified there the right of trial by jury; it has abolished the habeas corpus, that most sacred writ of liberty; it has overthrown the freedom of speech and the press; it has substituted arbitrary seizures and arrests, and military trials and secret Star Chamber inquisitions for constitutional tribunals. It has disregarded in time of peace the right of the people to be free from search and seizures. It has entered the post and telegraph offices, and even the private rooms of individuals, and seized their private papers and letters, without any specification or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law. It has converted the American Capitol into a bastile. It has established a system of spies and official espionage to which no constitutional monarchy of Europe would now dare to resort. It has abolished the right of appeal on important constitutional questions to the supreme and judicial tribunal, and threatens to curtail or destroy its original jurisdiction, which is irrevocably vested by the Constitution, while the learned Chief Justice has been subject to great and atrocious calumnies merely because he would not prostitute his high office to the support of the false and partisan charges preferred against the President. Its corruption and extravagance have exceeded anything known in history, and by its frauds and monopolies it has nearly doubled the burden of the debt created during the war. It has stripped the President of his constitutional power of appointment, even of his own Cabinet. Under its repeated assaults the pillars of the Government are rocking on their base, and should it succeed in November next, and inaugurate its President, we will meet as a subjected and conquered people amid the ruins of liberty and the scattered fragments of the Constitution. And we do declare and resolve that ever since the people of the United States threw off all subjection to the British Crown, the privilege and trust of suffrage have belonged to the several States, and have been granted, regulated and controlled exclusively by the political power of each State respectively, and any attempt by Congress, on any pretext whatever, to deprive any State of this right, or interfere with this exercise, is a flagrant usurpation of power which can find no warrant in the Constitution, and if sanctioned by the people will subvert our form of Government, and can only end in a single centralized, consolidated government, in which the separate existence of the States will be absorbed, and an unqualified despotism be established in place of a Federal Union of co-equal States, and that we regard the reconstruction acts of Congress such usurpations, and unconstitutional, revolutionary and void.

That our soldiers and sailors, who carried the flag of our country to victory against a most gallant and determined foe, must be ever gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

That the public lands should be distributed as widely among the people and should be disposed of either under the pre-emption of homestead lands, and sold in reasonable quantities, and to none but actual occupants, at the minimum price established by the Government. When grants of the public lands may be allowed necessary for the encouragement of important public improvements, the proceeds of such lands, and not the lands themselves, should be applied.

That the President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, exercising the power of his office in restricting the aggression of Congress on the constitutional rights of the States and the people, is entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and on behalf of the Democratic party we tender him our thanks for his patriotic efforts in that regard.

Upon this platform the Democratic party appeal to every patriot, including all the conservative elements, and all who desire to support the Constitution and restore the Union, forgetting all past differences of opinion, to unite with us in the present great struggle for the liberties of the people; and that to all such, to whatever party they may have heretofore belonged, we extend the right hand of fellowship, and hail all such as friends and brothers.

WE understand that General Vega, of Mexican fame, and some of his agents, are in this city, striving to raise recruits to the number of fifteen hundred to aid him in some of his revolutionary or ambitious projects in Mexico. None but the silliest of the silly will enter into the trap thus set for them. However poor a man's condition and prospects may be in this State they cannot be bettered by engaging in General Vega's enterprise. Mexican and fillibustering expeditions have always proven arrant humbugs, and absolutely ruinous to those engaged in them. Let American citizens remember that although they rendered the Mexicans powerful moral and material aid during their struggle with Napoleon and Maximilian, almost the first act of the treacherous Mexicans, after the destruction of the Empire, was to slaughter, in cold blood, innocent and unoffending Americans residing in Mexico. Any American who volunteers to aid Vega, or other Mexican chiefs, may expect to be assassinated or imprisoned after his services are rendered. These are all the rewards usually bestowed upon Americans who endanger their lives in any Mexican service.—[Call.

BACKED DOWN.—The following incident took place in Nevada: A certain well known Democrat, living near that town, came in to dispose of some honey, thinking, no doubt, from the sour and disappointed countenances of the radicals, that some Grant man would like to purchase a little to sweeten his disposition. A Republican offered to invest, and bet twice the price of the honey that Grant would be elected—that is, to deposit the money, subject to the Democrat's order, if Seymour was elected; if Grant was elected, he was to have the honey for nothing. The Democrat eagerly accepted the bet, took his honey into Beckman's saloon, and requested the rad. to deposit his coin. The rad. began to weaken a little, and said he would give his note. The Democrat agreed to take the note, and deliver the honey, if the rad. would give security for its payment. This the rad. could not or would not do, and backed down completely, to the great amusement of the bystanders. The Democrat did not like to take a radical's note for his honey without good security.—[Grass Valley National.

AN INCIDENT.—Day before yesterday, while Professor Wallace was talking to the crowd in front of the Exchange Hotel about horse-training, an individual who has great confidence in our local reporter, and who was wondering what so much of a crowd meant, asked our local, while he pointed to the Professor: "Him General Glant?" "No," replied the local, "why do you ask, John?" "Him allee time talkee hossee, allee same Glant," said the Chinaman, who is well posted on American politics.—[Grass Valley Union.

Sheriff's Sale.

BY a decree of foreclosure and order of sale to me directed, issued out of the Honorable the District Court of the Sixth Judicial District, held in and for the County of Yolo, on a judgment rendered therein on the 20th day of July, A. D. 1868, in favor of JOHN D. STEPHENS and against WM. DANIEL and RODIE S. DANIEL for the sum of $18,905 85 in U. S. gold coin, and the further sum of $3,190 37 in U. S. gold coin, with legal interest, said sums being principal, interest, counsel fees and advances made under the terms of the Mortgage given to secure the payment of the amounts specified in said foreclosed Mortgage; together with $46 40 costs of suit, and all accruing costs in coin, I was commanded to sell at public auction to the highest bidder all those certain tracts of real estate lying and being in said County of Yolo and State of California, described as follows, to wit:

The undivided one-half of that portion of the Canada de Capay, or Berreyesse Grant (now Patented), beginning at a point on Cache Creek, near the centre thereof, and being on the line between the Gordon Grant and the Canada de Capay or Berreyesse Grant; running thence southerly with said line to a stake at Gordon's south-west corner, about 105 chains; and thence in a westerly direction about 315 chains to a stake in the ground placed there by A. P. Green, U. S. Surveyor, and being on the line between the tract of land known as the lands of Holdforth and the tract known as Manchester's; thence running northerly on the division line between the last-mentioned tracts to the centre of Cache Creek; thence down the centre of said creek, following the meanderings thereof, to the place of beginning (excepting therefrom the tract of land belonging to J. J. and L. D. Stephens.)

Also, the whole of the following tract in said county, to wit: Beginning at a point in the centre of Cache Creek, on the line between the Manchester and Holdforth tract aforesaid; and running thence north 10¼ degs. east 105 chains and 34 links to the north-west corner of said Manchester tract; thence easterly to the north-east corner of said Manchester tract in a line parallel with the centre of Cache Creek, about 70 chains; thence running south 10¼ degs. west to the centre of Cache Creek; thence up said creek, along the centre thereof, to the place of beginning, containing 739 70-100th acres, together with the improvements.

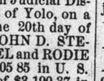

In obedience to such command, I will,

On Monday, August 17th, 1868,

at the hour of 12 o'clock M. of that day, in front of the Court House door in Woodland, Yolo county, offer at public sale all the property above described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the judgment, interest and costs.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

Yolo Democracy Alive—Ratification Meeting on Monday Night—Torchlight Procession—Illumination—Bonfires—Fireworks—Speeches by Hon. A. Compte, Jr., Hon. J. W. Coffroth, Hon. L. Ramage, and others.

One of the largest assemblages ever witnessed in Woodland gathered from all parts of the county on Monday evening to participate in the Seymour and Blair ratification meeting, which had been announced a few days before, and which exceeded the most flattering anticipations of all interested in getting up the demonstration. The farmers and workingmen of all classes were out in force, and every countenance was bright with the hope of triumph. At an early hour the booming of the old gun announced the hour of preparation, and representatives from the various Democratic clubs of Yolo came in crowds from every quarter. Large bonfires were kindled on all the principal streets. Many business houses and residences were brilliantly illuminated, and rockets were sent whizzing through the air, making the scene one of life and joy in honor of the nominations. About 8 o'clock the procession was formed by J. I. Underhill, the Grand Marshal, and marched through the streets, carrying transparencies, torches and flags, and keeping time to the enlivening strains of martial music. On the route the procession was cheered at various points, and the liveliest enthusiasm prevailed. It was finally halted on the corner of Main and Court streets, in front of Baker's Hotel, where the speakers' stand had been erected, and immediately afterwards the meeting was called to order. Judge Gwin, on being called to the chair, stated the object of the meeting, and added some patriotic remarks in regard to the duty of Democrats at this time. J. D. Lawson and Judge M. A. Woods were then chosen to act as Secretaries of the meeting, and the following list of Vice Presidents were placed in nomination: F. G. Russell, J. R. Nixon, Jasdn Watkins, John Miller, W. S. Huston, Jas. A. Douglas, Harry Murphy, Milton Dale, Russ Smith, John Price, Samuel Tutt, A. E. Noel, Wm. Montgomery, Jas. Lillard, Wm. Dresbach, Wm. Greene, J. S. Curtis, R. Carey, D. C. Hubbard and Ed. Clark.—They received a unanimous vote, and were declared elected. Judge Woods was then called upon to address the meeting. He responded in a short speech, at the close of which he announced that the Hon. A. Compte, of Sacramento, was then present. Mr. Compte, in answer to loud calls, came forward and was introduced by Judge Gwin to the audience. He proceeded to lay down the principles of true Democracy in a clear and forcible manner, and in an able argument he arraigned the radical party before the bar of public opinion as unworthy the trust reposed in them. He believed the doom of radicalism was sealed, and looked forward to brighter prospects of the nation. He was listened to with interest for more than an hour, and at the close of his speech he was greeted with three hearty cheers: J. W. Coffroth was then called for. While coming forward a voice in the crowd proposed “Three cheers for the next Congressional Representative from the Second District.” The cheers were given with a will, and the speaker ascended the platform and launched out in one of his happiest efforts, which engaged the attention of the crowd throughout the course of his remarks. Mr. Coffroth has a pleasant way of hitting the radicals some pretty hard raps, which might be attested by a few radicals there present, who saw no reason to believe the smile of a good-natured Democrat was evidence of his partiality for military despots in time of peace. Hon. L. Ramage was next called for. He responded in an able effort, and, like those who preceded him, eloquently advocated the principles of Democracy and the claims of its standard-bearers. A large number of ladies were present, who seemed well pleased with the good old-fashioned Democratic entertainment. After the speaking the meeting was formally adjourned; but, the crowd being loth to leave the spot, joined heartily in cheer after cheer for the Democratic nominees. The torchlight procession was re-formed, and rejoicings kept up till a late hour.

AN EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY.—A lady, the wife of a well-known salesman in one of the principal business houses on Main street, who resides in the suburbs of town, having been detained at home by her household duties for a period of four or five weeks, came down town a few days ago to visit the establishment where her husband was engaged. The new buildings and other improvements which met her eye on every side rendered her accustomed walk so changed in appearance that before she had arrived within a block of her destination she became completely bewildered, and vainly endeavored to find the object of her search. Fortunately, soon after she had lost her reckoning, a county officer, noted for his urbanity, happened along and escorted the lady to her husband, to whom she related the adventure, much to his amusement. Moral: Keep pace with the march of improvement, or you will lose your messmate.

WOODLAND AND SUISUN STAGE LINE.—A. W. Tucker, of this place, has purchased from Cutler one-half interest in the stage line running from Woodland to Suisun. Tucker is an active, energetic business man, and will attend promptly to the wants of passengers at this end of the route. This line has become a popular one with the public. So rapid has been the increase of travel over the route, that the present proprietors find it necessary to put on additional stock, and make daily trips hereafter.

PROBATE COURT.—In the matter of the estate of C. Anderfuren, deceased—on motion of J. C. Ball, final account of administrator allowed, and decree of discharge on final settlement entered. In the matter of the estate of S. T. Welch, deceased—on motion of Burnett, will admitted to probate, and W. Y. Browning appointed executor. Adjourned for the term.

HIGHWAY OPENED.—The road across the tule between this place and Sacramento—which has been so long impassable—is now open for travel, the waters which submerged it having subsided. The first trip over the route was made on Monday last by Tucker & Buckley's stages. The road, we learn, is in good condition.

DETAINED LETTERS.—Letters addressed to Mrs. Emma J. Read, Michigan Bluffs, Cal; E. Craft, Marysville, Cal., and W. A. Nickerson, Lincoln, are detained in the post-office in this place, for want of proper stamps.

NEW POST OFFICE.—We learn that a new post-office has been established at Davisville, in this county.

DISTRICT COURT—JULY TERM.—MONDAY, 20th, 1868.—Anna Tryon vs. J. C. Davis—by agreement continued for the term. Elizabeth Newsome vs. Benj. Newsome—cause dismissed at plaintiff's cost. I. S. Chiles vs. Board of Supervisors of Yolo county—dismissed at plaintiff's cost. Mess & Wester vs. Driesbock & Green—demurrer withdrawn and cause continuedfor the term, by agreement. G. Hatch vs. Cacheville Agricultural Ditch Co.—demurrer overruled and twenty days given defendant to answer, and cause continued for the term. Andrew McClory vs. Thomas McClory—demurrer withdrawn by defendant. L. L. Robinson vs. S. E. Herrick—continued for the term by order of the Court. L. L. Robinson vs. J. M. Hubbard and S. E. Herrick—same order. J. A. Hutton vs. T. Dobbins—demurrer withdrawn and defendant ordered to answer by 12 o'clock to-morrow. John D. Stephens vs. Wm. Daniels et al—default taken, and judgment entered for plaintiff for $22,096 22 in gold coin, and costs of suit, and sale of mortgaged property. I. W. Jacobs vs. J. T. Daly—ordered that judgment offset judgment as per motion of counsel. Blum & Bro. vs. McMahon—demurrer sustained with leave to amend; one day to plaintiffs and two days to defendant to answer. Trumpler vs Bemerly—demurrer sustained and sixty days given to answer. Bemerly vs. Buob—motion to strike out part of defendant's answer sustained. Benj. Ely vs. D. N. Hershey—motion for a rehearing argued, submitted, and taken under advisement by the Court. Bayley vs. Hunt—dismissed at plaintiff's cost. Pruett vs. Langenour—nonsuit granted without prejudice. J. E. Barnes vs. H. Gwinn et al—jury failed to agree and cause continued for the term. W. Hodgsdon vs. City of Sacramento—continued for the term at cost of defendant. Bemerly vs. Buob—continued for the term by consent of parties, and witnesses ordered to appear. Peirson & Strong vs. W. W. Hannum—same order. Cone vs. Hynes—dismissed at plaintiff's cost. Pierson & Strong vs. W. W. Hannum—motion to strike out part of defendant's answer overruled, and one day given to plead. Scott vs. Prader—Ten days given defendant to file brief. E. H. Cone vs. John Hynes—demurrer overruled; one day given to answer. Dyer vs. Gardner—same order. Tweed et al vs. See et al—demurrer overruled and ten days to answer; continued for the term. John Stokes naturalized on testimony of D. Schindler and J. T. Daly. TUESDAY, 21st—A. McClory vs. Thos. McClory—testimony introduced and case taken under advisement by court. W. C. Wright vs. Alex. St. Louis—continued for the term. E. H. Cone vs. John Hynes—(new case) continued for the term. Robert Duncan, native of Ireland, naturalized on testimony of M. Dale and J. T. Daly. WEDNESDAY, 22d—W. D. Wristine vs. Brown et al—case settled and dismissed. E. Dyer vs. R. Gardner—default entered and judgment rendered for plaintiff for $302 50 and costs of suit. Blum & Bro. vs. McMahon—demurrer overruled and one day given defendant to answer; cause continued for the term. Court adjourned at 3 o'clock P. M.

HOW OFTEN do you hear the complaint from mother and father that their son or daughter is not well; that they have no appetite; that they feel languid; that their head aches; that they are growing thin and feeble, and that they have no life or energy left. That they are low-spirited, and perfectly incapacitated to participate in any pleasures, or perform any mental or physical duty. And the question is often asked, what shall I do for them? or, what shall I give them? Our answer is, let them try “Plantation Bitters” moderately three times a day, and our word for it they will recover. *

LARGE BUSINESS.—Few persons are aware of the immense number of sewing machines sold in the present day, and probably in no other part of the world are so many sold in proportion to the number of the inhabitants as on this coast. The largest sales by any one agency in San Francisco, in the year ending May 1st, 1868, as we learn from the returns at the Internal Revenue office, are of the FLORENCE, which amount to the grand total of one hundred and twenty thousand dollars.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—We acknowledge the compliment paid this office on Monday evening by those who participated in the Democratic torchlight procession. The procession halted in front of our office and gave three cheers for the DEMOCRAT and three more for the Democratic press of California.

PAINFULLY AFFLICTED.—A stranger near town, on Thursday, fell in a fit and was brought by a farmer to Baker's Hotel, where he was kindly cared for. Dr. Strong attended the sufferer, and his situation was made as easy as possible. He suffered the most intense agony for several hours, but finally recovered from the attack.

TOO LATE.—A friend arrived with some dispatches from Knight's Landing just as we were going to press. He attributes his delay to the warm weather and iced punches, lemonades and cobblers he found at Charley Rourke's new Occidental Saloon in Cacheville.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.—Having been enabled heretofore to give only a telegraphic synopsis of the Platform of the National Democratic party, we present it to-day entire. It is an able document, sound in principle, and worthy of careful perusal. By this token we expect to march to victory.

PARTISAN BIGOTRY.—We learn that in one of the School Districts in this county, recently, a newly-elected Trustee was sworn to employ no “copperhead” as teacher. We wait further developments and more particulars of the “strategic” movement.

NATURALIZED.—At the late session of the District Court, John Stokes became a citizen of these United States upon the testimony of D. Schindler and J. T. Daly; also Robert Duncan, a native of Ireland, on the testimony of M. Dale and J. T. Daly.

LECTURES.—Lectures were delivered in town on Thursday evening by Benj. Todd and Rev. A. C. McDougal. The subject of the former was Spiritualism; that of the latter, Temperance.

FIRST IN MARKET.—On Thursday last the first load of grain this season from Yolo left the ranch of S. Tryon via the Tule House. The road being in good condition, shipments will increase daily.

RIPE GRAPES.—G. D. Fiske laid on our table this week several bunches of an excellent variety of grapes. They were ripe and tempting as the apples of Eden.

MEETING AT DAVISVILLE.—The Davisville Democacy will hold a mass meeting on Saturday evening, August 8th. Good speakers will be in attendance.

WOODLAND DEMOCRATIC CLUB meets to-night.

ZEALOUS.—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals recently caused the arrest of a man for plucking feathers from a decapitated fowl before it stopped fluttering. There were some down on the transaction. The case was not comprehended.

THE NEW

WEED

SEWING MACHINE!

Just completed, in SOLID STEEL MACHINERY, and combining in ONE the good of ALL!

This most enterprising Company has certainly brought out

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE EVER MADE!

And indeed is the ONLY NEW Sewing Machine, of any name, manufactured for the last eight years. Even a superficial observer can easily see that it surpasses all others, at least in the simplicity and durability of its machinery, and its remarkable

EASE OF MOTION AND MANAGEMENT.

It has few pieces, and all of steel. It makes the complete “Lock Stitch,” the same on both sides, which will not ravel. Every Machine is warranted to sew from and of course can never be got out of order by “hard sewing.” ☞ All repairs free of charge. Prices same as others.

PLEASE NOTICE.

The claims of the Florence Company for the First Premium at the great Paris Exposition of 1867, though seeming true in letter, is really false in spirit and intent, and calculated greatly to deceive the public. Although it did receive the Silver Medal—that being the highest award given—it was not awarded the FIRST RANK! This was awarded the Weed Sewing Machine, and to the WEED only, as being “first in the order of merit.” The second place was given to an European Machine, and only the third to the Florence! But the claim of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, at this Fair, is a great outrage, both as to letter and spirit; at least so much of it as pertains to their Gold Medal upon their Family Machine, which, to speak plain, is purely imaginary, they having received—as is well known—their Gold Medal on their “Button-hole Machine,” but nothing at all on their “Family Machine;” not even a bronze medal, nor indeed (what is worse) even an “honorable mention.” (See official report.) See also, as to the new WEED Sewing Machine, the returns of the State Fairs of Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Hampshire and New York, for 1867, at each of which the NEW WEED “F. F.” Sewing Machine was pronounced the BEST, and received the highest premium given. And so also at other Fairs, and indeed wherever the Company shall choose to exhibit the “strong points” of this really magnificent Machine.

ELASTIC STITCH
FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES,
Are the best in Use,
FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

They are more simple and durable easier kept in order, make a stronger and more elastic stitch, a firmer and more beautiful seam than any other. They sew all fabrics from two common spools, require no re-winding of thread, fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation, and though every fifth stitch is cut the seam will not rip.

They Stitch, Hem, Fell, Cord, Bind, Tuck, Quilt, Gather, Braid, and Embroider. No other machine Embroiders, as well as Sews perfectly.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.

The only Known Remedy

— FOR —

Diabetes, Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, Inflamation of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, &c., &c., &c.

For these diseases, it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Are you troubled with that disgusting pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmbold's Buchu will relieve you.

Physicians and Others

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with care, prepared in vacuo and according to the rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded. A Diuretic is that which acts upon the Kidneys. Helmbold's Extract Buchu acts gently. It is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action. For the satisfaction of all, see Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

“BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, chronic catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Uretha, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, chronic Rheumatism, cutaneous affections and Dropsy.”

For further information see Professor Dewees' valuable works on the Practice of Physic. See remarks made by the celebrated Dr. Physic, of Philadelphia. See any and all standard works on Medicine.

Dr. Keyser is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical college and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia:

Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD—Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys; and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts. I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality I give yours precedence over all others. I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name. Respectfully yours, etc.,
GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D., 140 Wood st.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

FROM THE LARGEST MANUFACTURING CHEMIST IN THE WORLD.

I am acquainted with H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN, (firm of Powers & Weightman), Manufacturing chemists, Ninth and Brown streets, Phila.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are genuine preparations, and knowing that the intelligent refrain from using anything pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physicians' simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare Pharmaceutical preparations. These parties resort to various means of effecting sales, such as copying parts of advertisements of popular remedies and finishing with certificates. The science of medicine stands simple, pure and majestic, having fact for its basis, induction for its pillar, truth alone for its capital.

A Word of Caution.

Health is most important; and the afflicted should not use an advertised medicine, or any remedy, unless its contents or ingredients are known to others besides the manufacturer, or until they are satisfied of the qualifications of the party so offering.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

WAITING.

I have waited while primroses faded,
I have waited till violets are dead,
Till the thickening buds on the chestnut bough
Grew leafy and full overhead.

Time's gray has passed over my tresses,
And lines on my temples are sown,
For I've waited till harvest is gathered,
And the white Summer clover is mown.

I have waited long under the elm trees,
Till the green of the beeches is brown,
And the withering leaves of the linden
In Autumn came fluttering down.

I have waited in light and in darkness;
I have waited in sunshine and rain;
I am waiting for one who may never
Come back over the rough sea again.

THE crowd who daily pass St. Paul's, Broadway, are occasionally appealed to by a person who now and then takes his stand there for charity. This person, who purports to be bereft of sight, is led by a dog, the latter bearing a card with the words, "I am blind." A very benevolent gentleman, who had been in the habit of dropping a penny in the beggar's hat, passed by rapidly one morning without that little act of liberality, when the supposed blind party rushed after him, saying, "What! you are not going to pass without giving me something?" The gentleman, turning in surprise, said, "Why, I thought you were blind!" "Oh no, sir," was the cool reply, "it is the dog that is blind!"

THE bar-room statesman who frequents the "Free and Easy," was discoursing last evening on the subject of "getting tight." "It's curious," observed he, "very curious, and I don't exactly understand it. It's so insidious, you see. You don't mean to, and yet you do; you don't think you are, and yet you are before you know it; and how you got so and when you got so, are inscrutable problems. In fact, whisky is like Providence—

"It moves in a mysterious way
Its wonders to perform."

—[Dramatic Chronicle.

A CLERGYMAN going to a miserly old lady to beg for a worthy object, found himself refused on the ground of poverty. Feigning himself much interested in her story, he expressed great surprise thereat, and said:

"I had not thought you in such want;" and then taking out some money, he said, "Here is something that will do for the present purpose; when I call again I will bring you more."

The old lady was so enraged that she gave him a good round sum to show him that she did not mean she was a pauper.

A GOOD joke is told of a young man who attended a social circle a few evenings since. The conversation turned on California and getting rich. Tom —— remarked that if he was in California he would, instead of working in the mines, waylay some rich miner who had a bag full of gold, knock out his brains, and gather up the gold and skedaddle. One of the young ladies quickly replied that he had better gather up the brains, as he evidently stood in more need of the article than of gold. Tom subsided.

UPON a recent occasion in New Orleans an "unbleached American citizen" had been (by lot) drawn on a petit jury. Directly on hearing it, Sambo put out for the swamps like a quarter-horse: "Dis nigger isn't gwying to be kotched dat ar way—dem juries is always hung!"

A YOUNG man sent his father in the country his photograph, stating that he was poor and required money. The father refused, stating that he could not be very poor to be living surrounded by marble vases, rosewood furniture, and choice flowers, as his photograph represented him.

AN enterprising bill-poster in New York city has the following sign over his shop door:

Go forth in haste, with bills and paste,
Proclaim to all creation,
The men are wise who advertise,
In the present generation.

THE Washington papers record a speech made at a recent Sunday school celebration by General Grant. The following is a verbatim report: "The boys and girls look well to-day. That's a very pretty banner."

"How many years have you been dumb?" asked a gentleman of a beggar who pretended to be bereft of speech. "Five years, sir," replied the imposter, completely taken off his guard.

A WITNESS spoke of a particular person as having seen him "partially clad." "Was he not quite nude?" asked the examining counsel. "No," replied the witness, "he wore a pair of spectacles."

A YOUNG LADY being asked by a feminine acquaintance whether she had any original poetry in her album, replied: "No; but some of my friends have favored me with original spelling."

A LADY was urged by her friends to marry a widower, and as an argument they spoke of his two children. "Children," replied the lady, "are like tooth-picks—a person wants her own."

THE Tribune says "loyalty and liberty are the same." There is a great difference. The "price of liberty is eternal vigilance," but the price of "loyalty" is eternal taxation.—[Day Book.

IT costs us more to be miserable than would make us perfectly happy; how cheap and easy is the service of virtue, and how dear we pay for our vices.

A MAN out West, who offered bail for a friend, was asked by the Judge if he had an incumbrance on his farm. "Oh, yes," said he, "my old woman."

A TRAVELER breakfasting at an Arkansas hotel requested the waiter to take his coffee out in the yard and pump some of the water out.

WOMAN.—He cannot be an unhappy man who has the love and smile of a woman to accompany him in every department of life.

A WRETCHED old bachelor says that a woman is always ready to confess a fault when she has committed a crime.

THE light of other days—pitch pine torches and dipped candles.

IF you would look "spruce" in your age, don't "pine" in your youth.

NOT every one who goes out on wheels belongs to the Wheeler family.

A TRULY great man never puts away the simplicity of a child.

IT doesn't require any remarkable strength to be a shop-lifter.

BAD TASTE—Pretty young girls kissing widowers' children.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT—Horatio Seymour.

SEWING MACHINE!

Over 82 Competitors,

—AT THE—

Great Paris Exposition, 1867,

Being the highest honors and all the Gold Medals awarded to any Sewing Machine Company at this Exposition.

As a HOLIDAY

Present, Nothing will be more appreciated THAN ONE OF these MACHINES.

America, England and France, now unite in this grand Proclamation:

Good news! good news the cable brings,
O'er all the wires it flies,
Wheeler & Wilson's sewing machine
Brings back the golden prize.

Our "Uncle Sam" first struck the note,
"John Bull" then caught the sound;
Now comes from France the echo back,
Wheeler & Wilson's crowned.

And now, no more the people doubt,
So long its stood the test—
The thing is fairly noised about
And they will buy the best.

☞ We can now supply those who wish to purchase 'STODDARD'S PATENT TUCK-MARKER,' one of the most useful attachments to the Machine yet invented; which, while sewing one tuck, makes the line of marks for the next.
